

A black and white photograph of an archaeological excavation. A rectangular stone structure, composed of several rounded stones, is partially buried in a sandy or silty matrix. A long, thin wooden plank is positioned horizontally above the structure, likely for scale or support. A black and white striped scale bar is placed vertically to the right of the structure. A small white label with black text is attached to the scale bar, providing site information. The ground surface is uneven and shows signs of excavation.
